

Guy Fawkes (A1)

On 5 November in the United Kingdom, it's Guy Fawkes Night!

In 1605, Guy Fawkes and other Catholics wanted to protest about the persecution of Catholics. They wanted to blow up the British parliament. They wanted to assassinate the monarch, King James I.

On the fifth of November, the army discovered the conspiracy. Fawkes was captured and imprisoned in the Tower of London. He was tortured and executed.

To celebrate the end of the conspiracy, the British had big bonfires, with a model of Guy Fawkes.

Today, on Guy Fawkes Night, 5 November, the tradition continues. There are fireworks and bonfires, with a "guy": a model of Guy Fawkes!

- Blow up = destroy with explosives
- Conspiracy = secret plan
- Bonfires : big fires outside for celebrations
- Fireworks : colorful explosions in the sky
- A model = a mannequin, an object that resembles the person (here Guy Fawkes)
